

Clinical Psychology

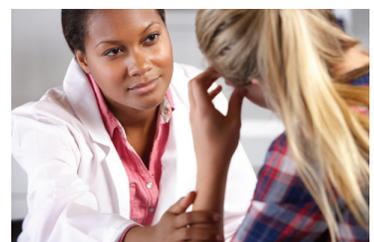

MASTER OF SCIENCE PROGRAM

The Master of Science degree in Clinical Psychology is designed for students who plan to continue doctoral training in Clinical Psychology or seek clinical employment at the M.S. level. The emphasis is on clinical assessment, theory, application, and research.

The Clinical Psychology program is full time and requires 45 hours of course work, comprehensive examinations, an empirical thesis or paper-in-lieu, and a 300-hour practicum. Instruction is offered in the traditional classroom format and offers considerable “hands on” experiences. The therapy courses have accompanying practica which also provide applied experiences. In addition to the degree, students can pursue a 12-hour concentration in Addiction Studies.
