

Report of Material that is Believed to Not Be in Conformance with UL System Policies regarding Discrimination and Retaliation on the Basis of Retirement Status or Age or any Other Protected Class

UL System policies regarding the prohibition of discrimination and retaliation against individuals based upon their retirement status or age have undergone many revisions. All efforts have been made to remove all documents from the Northwestern State University Web site that contain information that is misleading or in conflict with its policies. This includes a removal of all references to subjecting individuals to adverse actions for false complaints which may have an unduly chilling effect on an individual who has been subjected to such action.

This report does not require identifying information. Provide the University Web site link where the concerning document can be found.
