

Kent, Sarah McKinney

Storyteller

Sarah Kent was born in New Orleans on November 22, 1944, and she now lives in Greensburg, Louisiana. She has a master's degree in social work and is currently a social worker. She was first exposed to storytelling in her home as a child and has carried on the tradition.

Sarah considers her dialect as, "fluent redneck, passable English." Sarah is depicted in Swapping Stories.

Updated February 20, 2017 by Natchitoches-NSU Louisiana Folklife Center